DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12-15, 17, 23-24, 26, 28-31, 33-39, 41-43, 46, 48-61, 65, 67-75, and 77-84 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chang in view of Wolf et al., as previously applied, and further in view of Yamazaki, U.S. Patent 4,727,044.

Chang and Wolf et al. are applied as previously but lack anticipation of forming an insulating film overlying the semiconductor prior to irradiation and forming the gate insulating film using a TEOS precursor.

Yamazaki discloses forming a gate insulating film over the entire semiconductor island prior to laser irradiation (see column 5, lines 49-55). In view of this disclosure, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form an insulating film on the semiconductor film prior to irradiation because this would prevent the recombination center neutralizer from outdiffusing and also would prevent reflection. With respect to TEOS, the examiner takes official notice that this is a well known method used to form silicon oxide and has an added advantage in that it has a faster etching rate than thermal oxide.

Claims 16, 18-19, 21-22, 27, 32, 40, 47, 66, and 76 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chang in view of Wolf and further in view of Yamazaki as applied to claims 11-15, 17, 23-24, 26, 28-31, 33-39, 41-43, 46, 48-61, 65, 67-75, and 77-84 above, and further in view of Han et al., U.S. Patent 4,599,118.

Chang in view of Wolf and further in view of Yamazaki is applied as above.

Han et al. is applied as in paper #16 mailed 2-6-01 for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6-1-01 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). Clearly, Yamazaki, U.S. Patent 4,727,044 provides clear motivation for using an insulating layer over the entire structure during laser irradiation processes.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 2812

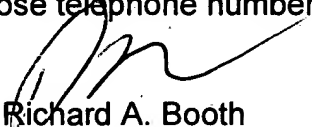

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
